

News & Trending

NEWS

SANDY COSTA PARTICIPATES ON A PANEL FOR THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY OF PHARMACEUTICAL ENGINEERING

03.12.2012

RALEIGH, N.C. – Santo (Sandy) Costa, Smith Anderson lawyer, recently participated in a panel discussion on leadership for the International Society of Pharmaceutical Engineering (ISPE) on February 17, 2012.

The International Society of Pharmaceutical Engineering was founded in 1980. ISPE is an individual membership society for professionals involved in the manufacture of pharmaceuticals and related products.

Costa is the author of the bestselling book, Humanity at Work. He is the former COO at Quintiles Transnational Corporation, and is well known as a leader and speaker with a message that offers steps for better business and relationships, as well as lasting prosperity.

Costa currently lives in Cary, N.C. with his wife Jean Ann. He practices law at Smith Anderson, and also writes, speaks and consults with organizations. Additionally, he has served on numerous boards of directors nationally, donates much of his time to philanthropic organizations and is a popular media guest and commentator. He is also available for media interviews. To find out more, log on to www.santocosta.com.

PROFESSIONALS

Santo J. Costa

INDUSTRIES

Life Sciences