

News & Trending
NEWS

DAVID HAYDEN PRESENTS AT THE 19TH ANNUAL GOVERNMENT CONTRACTING UPDATE

11.24.2014

Raleigh, N.C. – David Hayden, a lawyer in Smith Anderson's Government Contracts practice, spoke at the 19th Annual Government Contracting Update to provide businesses in the Research Triangle area ways to navigate internal controls, compliance issues, tax implications, cyber security for government contractors, as well as strategies for complying with several government contracting issues that include Ethics and Self Reporting, False Claims Act, Bid Protests and Certifications. Smith Anderson presented the event in partnership with the North Carolina Defense Business Association, Dixon Hughes Goodman and Wyrick Robbins.

About David Hayden

David has extensive experience in government contracting, corporate investigations and general corporate and employment law. He regularly advises companies and their directors and officers on corporate governance matters and other general corporate and business topics. He also represents a variety of defense contractors, advising on a broad range of federal contracting corporate issues such as International Trafficking in Arms Regulations (ITAR), corporate ethics and organizational conflicts of interest (OCI) compliance issues. For more information on David, please visit his bio at www.SmithLaw.com.

About the 19th Annual Government Contracting Update

Each year, the Annual Government Contracting Update features speakers who discuss strategies that can help small and large government contractors manage issues they might be facing in that year's current economic environment. This year's event and its speakers followed the theme of "Creating Cost Effective and Value-Added Strategies in a Changing Environment" and focused on helping businesses succeed in a complex and challenging environment.

PROFESSIONALS

David L. Hayden

PRACTICE AREAS

Government Contracting