SMITH ANDERSON PARTNERS WITH LEGAL ORGANIZATIONS TO CELEBRATE DIVERSITY IN THE PROFESSION

06.25.2015

Raleigh, N.C. – On June 10, 2015, Smith Anderson co-sponsored a diversity networking mixer designed to foster connections among minority attorneys in North Carolina and support diversity in the profession. The 2nd annual “Summer Networking Mixer” was organized by the North Carolina Bar Association’s (NCBA’s) Minorities in the Profession (MIP) Committee, the Capital City Lawyers Association and the George H. White Bar Association. The event was attended by 90 attorneys, including Smith Anderson attorney Sharita Whitaker, who is the incoming Chair of the MIP Committee.

About Minorities in the Profession (MIP)

The Minorities in the Profession Committee (MIP) is a committee of the NCBA dedicated to promoting an increased presence of minorities in the legal profession; the ongoing education of minorities in the legal profession; the betterment of life for those minorities in the legal profession; providing the public with quality information regarding issues of concern to minority lawyers; and educating the public about the contributions of North Carolina’s minority lawyers.
