

News & Trending

NEWS

BILL NELSON CO-AUTHORS CCH'S 2007 GUIDEBOOK TO NORTH CAROLINA TAXES

01.02.2007

Raleigh, N.C. - Smith Anderson partner, Bill Nelson, recently co-authored the 2007 edition of the Guidebook to North Carolina Taxes published by CCH. Updated annually, the Guidebook provides an overview of all North Carolina taxes, including all legislative, judicial and administrative developments. Mr. Nelson began co-authoring the Guidebook in 2002, the first year CCH selected outside authors to write the content, and has co-authored all editions since 2002.

Mr. Nelson practices in the areas of federal, state and local tax planning and advocacy for businesses and tax-exempt entities. He also advises privately held companies in corporate law matters and business transactions. His diverse experience includes planning and structuring corporate acquisitions and tax-free reorganizations, tax planning for private equity funds, partnerships and limited liability companies, general tax planning for businesses and international tax planning.

About Smith Anderson

Since our founding in 1912, Smith Anderson has grown to become the largest full-service Triangle-based law firm and one of the largest in North Carolina. Representing diverse organizations with local, state, national and international interests, our lawyers focus on building and strengthening relationships by understanding our clients' businesses and customizing our legal solutions accordingly. Our commitment to our clients also extends to our community and profession.